

Valentines Writing Prompts!

by Sarah

Beat by Beat

It's a Valentine's mystery! Someone is leaving paper hearts with clues written on them. Who is it and where do they lead?

Strange, Strange Love

What's something you love that most people might not? Maybe you're a fan of tarantulas or the smell of onions. Write a poem about why you love this strange, awesome thing!

Who's Cupid Now?

Cupid is back in town, and his bow is loaded with arrows. But this time his arrows don't make people fall in love...instead they do something else. Write what happens next!

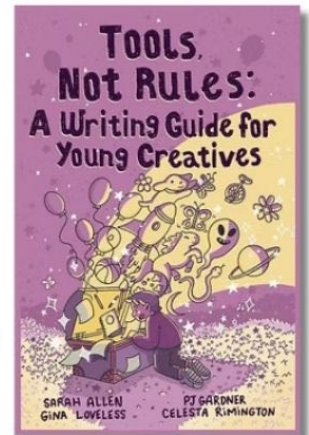

Steal Your Inspiration

Do you have a favorite love song? Think of a small line from that song. Got it? Great! Now use that line as the beginning of your own poem!

Quick Draw

First, draw a heart shape. Not too hard, right? Now, starting with that shape, add to it until you've got a heart-shaped monster! Is it furry? Spotted? How many arms and eyes? Make a monster ready for its own love story!

SARAHALLENBOOKS.COM
SARAHALLEN.SUBSTACK.COM

CHECK OUT MORE WRITING
PROMPTS AND EXERCISES HERE!